“ For the first time all week I have a few minutes alone. So I want to take this time to thank every one . The prayers,the condolences, the support was very much appreciated. My mother loved everyone. She took the world under her wing all the time. There are so many wonderful things I could say about her, and so many wonderful things I could mention that she has done for people through out her life time.I would be here typing forever. She is in heaven now with a lot of her family and friends. We will all miss her. It is comforting to know that she is with god even though my heart breaks. She will watch over everyone. She will guide us with god by her side. I pray that someday I will be back with her and spend eternity with my all my family in heaven. But until that glorious day I will be here trying to do all the things that she has taught me and try to make her proud of me.So fly momma enjoy your time with god you worked hard for it and deserve it more than anyone I know. I love you!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
