While hanging out with high school friends in Dallas, he would meet Diane Sue Pellam. They would marry on March 22, 1963. He would remain a faithful husband and her best friend for the next fifty-eight years.

CR was a master carpenter and builder. Many of the structures in the local area contain his fingerprint. In spare time, you might find him camping, hunting, fishing or watching western movies. He was always quick witted, and his laugh could be heard by anyone nearby.

Godly, dependable and protector are some of the words used to describe him. He emulated Christ in every area of his life, exhibited by his mission trips all over the world. He was a trusted confidant for his home church, The Heartland Church of Carrollton, (formerly Christ Temple) where he served as a Trustee for many years and 3 different pastors.
