

Charlsie Ann Warren

February 3, 1949 - December 7, 2009

Charlsie Ann Farmer Warren, 60, a native of Seymour, Texas, died Monday, December 7, 2009 at her home in Dallas. Charlsie was born February 3, 1949, the 2nd and youngest child on Cedric Farmer and Mary Frances Roach Child. She would attend schools in Dallas, moving shortly thereafter to Albuquerque, New Mexico. Ms. Warren became a skilled transcriber of court records, working for a large number of courts and attorneys. She later became accomplished at making gift baskets, originally doing it for fun, but eventually for income. She later became co-owner of Executive Services, a company skilled in the art of finding qualified executives for available positions. She will be remembered as honest and easy going. She loved her dogs, and loved playing bridge, participating in several clubs. Survivors: brother, Randy Farmer; step-mother, Dorothy Mynatt; adopted sister, Pam Trammell; and cousin, Bill Koberg. A private family committal service will be conducted at a later date. If friends desire, please direct memorial to IMPS, c/o Linda Amedee, 6211 Cedar Lane, Rowlett, TX, 75089, a miniature Pincher rescue organization.
