

Darryl Lamar White

April 24, 1970 - May 12, 2010

Darryl Lamar White Sr., 40, a machine operator for Stanpac, died Wednesday, May 12, 2010 in an Arlington hospital after a brief illness. Darryl was born on April 24, 1970 in San Diego, California. He attended school there before enrolling at Maric College in La Mesa where he would meet his life love, Stephanie Cortez. Darryl and Stephanie would move back to Arlington, Texas in 2004 where Darryl worked for various employers, including Poly America in Grand Prairie. He would work there until becoming an employee of Stanpac, where he continued until the time of his death. Darryl loved his family, and his favorite past-time was making others laugh. He enjoyed spending time at home, being with family, eating and laughing. He loved his place of birth, and remained a faithful San Diego Charger fan. He is survived by his spouse of 10 years, Stephanie Monique Cortez; children, Darryl White Jr, Diamond White and a sister, Tina. Services are pending.