“ I only now found out about Don's passing. We worked together in our first job after college and also shared an apartment before my relocation. Don was an usher at my wedding and I always enjoyed his sense of humor, smile and laugh. I am very sad about not being able to speak with him again as I discovered this news while trying to reconnect. The most humorous memory I can recall is when we discovered the neighbor living below our apartment was window peeping on us and our guests and we "set him up" with photography equipment and caught him in the act. I laugh to myself whenever recalling that memory. Don also introduced me to Thai and Vietnamese cuisine which I still appreciate that introduction to this day. There are many other memories I can recall and all are fond. I can honestly say that I never had an unpleasant experience whilst in Don's presence. I will miss him greatly. Rest well my friend.

I have the photos. I gave them to the family when we were gathering pictures for the slide show. The one of the perpetrators thongs in the bushes was the best, Rod. I loved Donnie so much and I miss him every single day. I hope you are well- don't forget the panties on the night before our wedding... never did get the straight story on where those came from.....
