“ All I can say is that, for my entire life, my mom connected with my quirky personality and somehow still loved me when I was unlovable... She was a devoted lover of peace and all that is about Jesus. I hope that I can continue to make my mother proud and pass down the love she showed me to my children. Truly, she was a rare soul... Always trying to help someone else even though she didn't have much... Selfless. I love you Mom, you are missed deeply.
