

Evelean Stella Mayfield

January 25, 1944 - May 5, 2012

Evelean Stella Webb Mayfield, 68, loving mom and grannie, died unexpectedly on Saturday morning, May 5, 2012 in Arlington, Texas. Evelean was born on January 25, 1944, the daughter of the late Diapolis Webb and the late Mable Roberts Webb in Madera, California. Born to a migrant family, she learned hard work at a young age. Even as a child, work in the cotton and potato fields was not uncommon. Evelean would move to Texas in 1968. She would live in various cities in the DFW area, including Hurst, Southlake, Wautaga, Grand Prairie and Arlington. As a young mother, she became the sole breadwinner for her children. She would work different occupations to provide for her family. She would learn the skill of a butcher, working for Standard Meat in Ft. Worth for many years. In addition, she would learn to weld, but would also work various jobs requiring many different abilities. Evelean loved common things of life, such as having her grandchildren at her feet. She was passionate about her children in a way that only a mother would understand. She also had a hobby of collecting elephants. She is survived by her children; Dorothy Johnston, Terrie Kennedy, Donald Johnston and his spouse Leah, Bryan Mayfield; grandchildren; Michelle Johnston, Melissa Kennedy, Jennifer Morrison and her spouse Milton Velasquez, Robin Kennedy, Anthony Morrison and his spouse Kathy, David Kennedy and his spouse Amanda, Jason Gallaher, Jenet Johnson and her spouse Josh. Also by her great-grandchildren; Isaac, Isaiah, Marissa, Zack, Jacob, Matthew, Makayla, Angelica, Nicholas, Ethan and Kendall. Visitation: 6
