Hedy was one of the most beautiful, joyful, and caring people who walked this earth. Her life story is miraculous and amazing, and I can't imagine what she felt as a young girl in Europe when she and her family faced so much destruction and terror at the hands of the Nazi regime.

Out of it all, all the ashes of war and destruction, a beautiful person arose, and she became a loving devoted mother, wife, and friend. She and her husband raised four children and created a home and a good life in Grand Prairie, Texas.

My family was close to Hedy, we saw her practically every day for over 25 years, and we stayed close after the Parkway Cafe closed. We love her still and treasure her memory.

She is now with her God and dearly departed loved ones, hugging her parents and siblings, and Stanley, Kurt, and Jake. She is encircling them in her warm embrace and love. We can hear her laugh and see her lovely smile.

No one can take away our memories or the love we have for this amazing woman who walked this earth and left it changed for the better.

We send our deepest sympathy to her entire family. In loving tribute and memory. - Hedy, Judy, and Joe.
