“ So many memories of Grandpa as a young child. He sure knew how to make me feel wanted and loved like I was his very own grand daughter blood or not he was my grandpa and I was his granddaughter. You will be missed. Love you ♡

“ *Jesse will be greatly missed in the neighborhood. I've known him since 1978. I was just a little girl. He was always so kind, caring and smiling. Somehow, I always felt safer knowing he was vigilant and there. As the years went by, he was a special part of every family event. He was there when I was ready to go for graduation. He was there when I walked out of my house in a wedding dress. He was there when I came home with my first born and then my second. He was there when I had to move back home after my divorce. He's been there for my nieces and nephew just as he has always been there for my kids, all of whom are now adults. Every single one of them has a story where Jesse was either giving advice, telling a funny story or joke, cooking out, playing music, giving out ice cream or popsicles on a hot summer day or that first day off the bus after going back to school. It's hard to imagine that our neighbor won't be there anymore. It's sad. But I thank God that we were blessed to share so many memories with him. I can't even begin to recount them all. But we will surely keto every single one of them. That's how he will live in. Always with us, Jesse. Rest in peace until we see you again. I can't wait to hear that big laugh again.
