

Littlejohn O'Connor

August 19, 1976 - January 5, 2007

Littlejohn O'Connor, 30, native of Dallas and resident of Grand Prairie died January 5, 2007 in Grand Prairie. Littlejohn was the youngest of five children born to John W. O'Connor and Lynn La O'Connor. Littlejohn was a handyman and had a reputation of being capable of fixing anything. He was a trained heating and air conditioning repairman which was his field of expertise. He loved motorcycles, and was the proud owner of several of them. He is survived by his parents, John and Janie O'Connor of Royce City; daughter, Hunter Leigh O'Connor of Arlington; brother, Michael Lemon and his wife Angie of Arlington, Tau Lee Van Ho and his wife Jennie of Wautaga; sisters, Michelle McCormick and her husband Bob of Royce City, Jacklyn O'Connor of Arizona, Mary Lincoln and her husband Eric of Augusta, South Carolina; nephews and nieces. A memorial service will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday, January 9, 2007 at Guerrero-Dean Funeral Home, Rev. Ron Adams officiating. A private family committal will occur at a later date.

Tribute Wall

“ Michelle McCormick lit a candle in memory of Littlejohn O'Connor

Michelle McCormick - August 19, 2020 at 10:24 AM

“ So, many memories of my little brother. This year I will share one of my mom's favorites. When he was just about 3, parents bought him a tiny swimming pool he would not get in it if myself and Mary did not go out with him. He was such a little shit, he would pretend to pee on us at 3 years old. He would also not go play in the pool unless he was completely naked he called it his "outside bathtub". I many not have painted a great picture of this. Let me tell you though it was funny stuff.

Happy Heavenly Birthday, little brother. You are always with me and will not be forgotten

Michelle McCormick - August 19, 2020 at 10:23 AM