Natasha Jacqueline Geddie-Rinehart, nee Luisa Ignacia Natasha Parker devoted wife, sister, aunt and mother, of Dallas, Texas passed from this realm on February 23, 2023 surrounded by her loving family.

Natasha, known affectionately as "Tasha" to many was born June 9, 1963 in Dallas, TX to Geraldine Laverne Kilgore and Edward William Golubin. She grew up in various foster households before being adopted by Mary Louise Freeman Parker with whom she stayed until her teens with she was welcomed into the Winters household where she stayed until her marriage to Gary Dean Geddie in December, 1982. To this union two beautiful daughters, Reina and Kimberly were born. Natasha cherished her role as a mother and retained a youthful outlook which endeared her to many friends and family.

Natasha had wide-ranging interests but her passion was her music. Under the tutelage of the legendary Al Trick, she quickly mastered the piano accordion. Beginning her professional music career as a busker at Six Flags Over Texas; she perfected her talents performing in many events over the years including Addison Oktoberfest, She was also invited to perform on a goodwill musician's tour of the former USSR. She even performed in the film "True Stories" as part of a parade scene. The soundtrack album to this film features a picture of her marching with the accordion in that scene on the back cover. Natasha eventually turned her love of her instrument into teaching, mostly young children, to play the instrument.

She began studying at Southeastern Paralegal Institute in 1989 and soon after began her legal career at a number of prestigious legal firms in the Dallas area with her final stop being the firm of West and Associates in Dallas. One high point of this career was she whistleblower status in 1992 regarding her work for a well-known client with some questionable business dealings. Most recently she attained licensure by the National Legal Board of Specialization as a Civil Trial Senior Litigation Paralegal. Few of the Dallas area candidates passed this exam and Natasha was immensely proud of her achievement

Also along the way, she offered free legal advice to many friends and family.

Those who knew Natasha recognized that she was a champion for the marginalized and overlooked in society. If there was a cause that needed some force behind it, she was there. This led to helping many individuals feel that she rescued them over the years, and a reputation as a patron saint of the downtrodden. In recent years she gave voice to this activism becoming a popular figure on Twitter and other social media.

Natasha met the love of her life Mark Rinehart in 2010 and they were united in marriage February 21, 2016 recently celebrating their 7th anniversary.

Natasha and Mark adored each other.

Left behind to cherish Natasha's memory are: husband Mark Rinehart of the home, daughter Reina Geddie of Costa Rica, daughter Kimberly Geddie of New York, brother Tim Toles of Ireland, sister Marsha Martin of Sachse Texas, and their children, and dear friend Connie Mack Graston. She is also survived by adoptive sister and brother Sheri Donovan and Bobby Donovan and aunts Jackie Lay, Darlene Pendery, Wanda Sadler, and Veena Stewart as well as a host of cousins. Natasha was predeceased by her birth parents, her adoptive mother, and her brother Louis Glenn Toles as well as adoptive sisters Antonia Parker and Susan Winters.

“ I just found out today, out the my best friend had passed. I have known Tash for for over 30 years and while I was in Dallas we spent so much time talking, working together and discussing the intricacies of life. I talked to her at least once per week and could always trigger that unique humor she had even in the worst of times. We could always make each other laugh in the darkest of times, which is what made us such great friends. When I needed anything...she was always there in an instant. In my business, she was an advisor, counselor, and god forbid you ticked her off a protector. She would go to no end to protect those she cared for. She is in so many of my stories that I recount to others that she will always be remembered. A brave and selfless woman that I admired. She died on my birthday, and I am still in shock that I did not know sooner. We both believed that she would she would win as we did on so many other insurmountable occasions. Tasha, I love you and will truly miss our insightful and hilarious conversations. You will always live on through my stories. Good bye my good friend.

“What is lovely never dies, but passes into another loveliness, Stardust or sea foam, flower or winged air.”

~ Thomas Bailey Aldrich

I had not spoken with Natasha in many years, but I knew her in our youth. She was always fun, and her quick wit was deployed like a rapier. I recall her hoisting up the accordion at the park and riffing on Stairway To Heaven just to make the people smile.

She gave me the tremendous gift of caring for Reina in her first years - a gift that I would never have for myself later in life. I was always grateful for that trust she placed in me.

I shall never forget her.

“I am shocked to learn of her death as she and I were working together to her friend who was unable to take care of himself. She cared deeply for others and was always willing to put others needs before her own. Rest in Peace Natasha.”

“ Although only have been around Natasha a few times ...I was struck by by a vibrant and funny personality. She was eager to share tips and encouragement to me when I acquired a small accordion. I know she is much loved and missed by many and pray the Lord to give them comfort through this most difficult time.

Hi Bobby, I'm Natash's brother. Toni wrote the most wonderful obituary for her. I asked him to send me what he had, so that I could contribute to it, and I had nothing to add. It was good to see him, next time under better circumstances. Take care, Tim

*Natasha became our friend with the birth of the Texas Accordion Association some 40 years ago which she was a Charter Member, and very instrumental in organizing it. She was a long- time officer of the organization. After opening her studio in Vicon Village, she taught two of our grandchildren. Later she and Brandon joined as a duet playing and entertaining two nights a week for two years at the Nopales Restaurant on Gus Thomason in Dallas. She was a very dear friend who was in our home throughout the many years and only last March blessed us with a concert celebrating Brandon's 89th birthday. We were so close, we ever shared dog sitting with her beloved Sheba and our Ginger. Shé will be missed dearly by all our family, and we shall always remember how blessed we were to have known Mark and her. Our condolences and prayers go out to her family at this time. May God give them comfort to know she is in His hands. Love to all,

This is a PS for the above: We were able to pull down one of the posted pictures of Natasha and Brandon playing at the birthday party mentioned above. She was gracious enough to bless us with her smile and about an hour or more of beautiful polkas, waltzes and patriotic music. We shall forever be grateful for this time with her and Mark. The Mocks
