Norita Hicks was born on January 11, 1938, the oldest of 3 children born to the late Floyd Herman Rushing and the late Lilly Lois Kuhn Rushing in Ladonia, Texas. The family would move to the Grand Prairie area when Floyd began working for a defense contractor, eventually concluding his career at Gifford Hill Inc. She would work in the banking industry, retiring from Bank of America in Irving after more than twenty years of service. She would remain active, working in customer service for Pay lessShoes and a local thrift store.

She was a faithful attendee at Burbank Gardens Church of Christ before health issues forced her absence. The members of CrossPoint Church of Christ remained faithful friends, visiting consistently and faithfully. The family will be forever grateful for their encouragement to her.
