

Peggy Jane Smith

December 4, 1930 - October 1, 2015

Peggy Jane Smith, 84, passed away peacefully at her home in Grand Prairie with her family at her side on Thursday, October 1, 2015.

Peggy was born to the late Flavius Earl Malone and Winne Davis Malone on December 4, 1930 in Bonham, Texas. Family and friends were Peggy's love and joy, and she spent her life selflessly caring for others. Everyone who knew Peggy loved her and considered her their "Memaw."

She was preceded in death by her husband of 64 years, Major Billy James Smith, who passed away in June of this year. Although they shared a lifetime together, when asked how long they had been married, they would jokingly say "three good years."

Peggy was also preceded in death both parents, her sister Willadeen Miller, and by Bill and Peggy's son, Dwight James Smith. Peggy loved playing BINGO, reading romance novels, solving crossword puzzles, crocheting, and cooking for family and friends (especially her signature pumpkin cake). She also had so much pride and joy caring for her dog, Lexi Belle, and baking her homemade dog treats.

Peggy is survived by two daughters, Sherri Smith Dooley and Terri Smith Ballard, Terri's husband

Tracy Ballard, and was the beloved grandmother of 9 grandchildren: Lauren (Elwell) Harris, Diana (Elwell) Ames, Ashleigh (White) Hicks, Blake Ballard, Paige Ballard, Chase Dooley, Jessi Cortez, Shelby Smith, and Jazmin Cortez. She also leaves behind 15 great grandchildren (including one on the way) and a lot of caring relatives and friends.

The visitation will be held on Tuesday, October 6, 2015 at Guerrero-Dean Funeral Home, 500 E. Main Street in Grand Prairie. The committal service at DFW National Cemetery will be held privately with family at a later date. The family would like to express our sincere gratitude for all of the kind words, thoughts, and prayers during this time.
