

Phillip "Phil/Gunner" Carr Jr.

August 5, 1952 - March 7, 2019

Phillip Arthur Carr Jr., know to many as either Phil or most recently, Gunner, a song-writer and musician, passed away unexpectedly at his home in Haslet on Thursday, March 7, 2019.

Visitation: 6 to 8 p.m. Tuesday at Guerrero-Dean Funeral Home, 500 E Main Street, Grand Prairie, Texas, 75050.

Phil was born on August 5, 1952 in Dallas, the youngest of 2 children born to the late Phillip Carr Sr and the late Matelyn Gloria Roddy Carr. He was raised in Arlington and was most recently a resident of Haslett.

A musician and song-writer all of his life, he had recently released 3 songs that were making their way up the country charts. They included the songs, Seven, Sunday Morn, and Take my Hand. Most will remember his love for riding his motorcycle and his t-shirts, and work for one of his passions, the non-profit group, I can feed the forgotten child.

He is survived by his wife of twenty-five years, Barbara Mays Carr; son, Phillip Scott Carr and his spouse Jenifer; daughters, Crystal Oaks and her spouse Billy, Rhonda Riley and her spouse Richie; grandchildren, Mikayla, Holdyn, Sofia, Bella, Brandon, Alison, Lily and Dakota. Also by his sister, Gloria Cope and her spouse Jerry and his loving in-laws, Tommy Mays and his spouse

Debra and Janice Schultz and nieces and nephews.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by a daughter, Stacy Carr.

If friends wish to donate to a special charity, the family directs the gifts be given to the SPCA of North Texas. <https://hsnt.org/donate/>

“Gunner, you are one of a kind, & such a blessing. You were always watching my back on that trip to KY, & that meant more than I ever expressed to you. Proud to call you friend. What a time you must be having in heaven. We'll see you soon, & you can be assured your love Barbara will have plenty of people surrounding her & helping her to realize God's plan for her now, having to live without you. We love & miss you, Bubba.
