Quinton Patrick Bellah, 69, of Euless, TX, beloved husband, father, grandfather, and mentor, passed away peacefully, with his loving wife by his side.

He was born on December 28, 1954, in Dallas, Texas, to the late Orville Cleveland Bellah and the late Joann Lynn.

Quinton spent many years in the air freight industry and doing carpentry work. Here is where his hard work and dedication were admired by his colleagues and friends. Beyond his professional achievements, Quinton found immense joy and fulfillment in his role as a mentor in Alcoholics Anonymous. He tirelessly supported and guided many individuals on their paths to recovery, earning the respect and gratitude of those he selflessly helped, all the while dealing with his own health issues. Quinton met every health challenge he had with bravery and determination, some even since childhood.

A loving husband, Quinton shared 33 wonderful years with the love of his life, Lisa Sample, and raised two beautiful children, Aliza and Lila. Their bond was a testament to true love and partnership, marked by unwavering support, shared laughter, and cherished moments. Together they created a home filled with warmth, music, and the purest form of joy.

Quinton was an extraordinary grandfather, affectionately known as “Pawpaw.” His grandson adored his playful nature and the endless love he showered upon him. His passion for life extended to his love for travel, cooking, and camping adventures. Quinton found unparalleled peace and joy in the great outdoors, exploring new places, and creating timeless memories with his family, and not to forget his enjoyment when watching the Dallas Cowboys, Texas Rangers and even a little golf.

Nothing mirrored Quinton's zest for life more than his love for music. From the timeless tunes of The Rolling Stones, Dire Straits, and Tom Petty, music was the soundtrack to his vibrant life. Whether it was a road trip, a quiet evening at home, or a lively family gathering, Quinton’s favorite songs echoed through the moments that defined him.

Quinton is survived by his wife; Lisa Bellah, daughters; Aliza and Lila Kirbie; grandson, Jonah Williamson; brother, Christopher Bellah; niece and nephews, Chloe Sample, Houston Bellah, Dallas Bellah, Austin Carr, Austin Sample, Caleb Bellah, Sean Bellah, and Audie Bellah; brother-in-law, Troy Sample, and a host of cousins.

“ I only knew Quinton for 6 years or so, but he left a big impact on my life. He was one those rare people who always left you feeling better about yourself than before. I think I will remember his great smile and easy going attitude for the rest of my days. He was always willing to help his fellow man and truly a man of God.
