“ I first met Rick at Tarrant Curly Junior College in the spring of 1976. We quickly became friends as we had common interest in our studies as well as our personal life. Rick grew up in a much different demographic than I did, and our relationship enabled me to envision a greater future for me and my family. By the time we met I was already a journeyman plumber and I hired Rick to work with us on many projects while we attended Junior College. .We spent a lot of time together. I was honored to meet Rick’s parents. Shirley, Amy, Don, Ron. Don was a mentor of mine. I think of him often. It has been many years since I last saw a Rick. We traveled down different paths as we aged. Should any of Ricks children, family, or friends read this, know that I offer you my love. Danny Fletcher
