

Ronald "Ron" Dean Nash

December 13, 1959 - November 28, 2007

Ronald Dean Nash, 47, pastor and bishop of Promiseland Metro Church and CEO of the Ranch of Lonesome Dove, was called to his heavenly home Wednesday, Nov. 28, 2007. Funeral: Noon Saturday at Promiseland Metro Church, 2799 Lonesome Dove Road, Southlake. Interment: Lonesome Dove Cemetery. Visitation: 6 to 9 p.m. Friday at the church. Memorials: Should friends desire, please direct contributions to the Ron Nash Memorial, 700 Knott Court, Euless, Texas 76039. Ronald "Ron" Dean Nash was born Dec. 13, 1959, in Beaumont, one of five children raised by O J and Jenetha Thrasher Nash. He was a graduate of Mansfield High School, Mansfield, LA., and had attended various schools, including Northwestern University and The International University of Biblical Studies in Parkersburg, West Virginia, where he would later become an instructor. The Rev. Nash had served on numerous boards including IUBS, Grace Nursing Academy in India, Orphanages in Africa, and as a governor with the Lukid Party in Israel. The Rev. Nash was preceded in death by his father, O J Nash, and one grandchild, Kent Kimsey. Survivors: Wife of 30 years, Melissa Nash; children, Charee Sims and husband, Rob, the Rev. Jeremy Nash and his wife, Christian, the Rev. Paul Pardee and wife, Erika, and Karen Kimsey and husband, Jerry; grandchildren, Zachary and Bradley Sims, Austin, Tyler and Ciara Pardee and Karl Kimsey; parents, Jenetha Nash Miller and husband, Charles Miller; brothers and sisters, the Rev. Robert Nash and his wife Glenda, Therease Gilbert and her husband, the Rev. Kevin, Roy Nash and his wife, Tina, and William Nash and his wife, Lea.