Dad wants way better for you! You deserve so much more than you are allowing yourself!

You're right they didnt raise us to be weak!

They raised us to deal with anything that comes at us and handle it the right way where the outcome is in our favour!

Life is hard! I'll be the first to say it! Every day is a struggle! Especially trying to raise 3 kids with almost no family around and my dad no longer here, never having anyone to just come over and tell me it's all gonna be okay, take a break, I'm gonna watch your kids while you just go and enjoy yourself for a little while, or someone to step in and say I know you are way over your head you guys have way too much on your plate, but realistically I dont have that, I live to far from my family and even if I were closer they have too much going on themselves, mom works herself to death, papa is so sick and in the hospital and nanny is way over her head with everything, aside from that I really have no one to turn to, not that I would but it would be nice to have the help and not financially but physically..just to be around my family- however that will likely never happen and dad isnt here to help make it all better anymore so instead of dwell on that I try to stay strong for my 3 Angel's like he always did for us and I give them all of me and everything I gave goes into making their life better because that's what mom and dad did for us! I can only do the best I can no matter how hard times get or if I feel myself overwhelmed, I have no choice! Giving up is not an option! Being the best I can be to show them that all they invested into us was worth it and not wasted, even if dad isnt here in person he is here watching over and guiding us! I know that! I know if he wasnt and if it wasnt for mom I'd be lost!

Yes I'd live to see my family more but it's hard with 3 kids and everyone so busy!

So I'll keep doing what I know to do and try and make my parents proud and raise my kids to be the same and never give up no matter the heartaches they may deal with, to keep going because that's what strong people do! Dad never gave up & neither did mom! They were/are amazing parents and I only hope to be half the parents they are!

Love you dad and I know you are always with me! I am grateful to you for all you did for me and all you instilled in me! & I will always keep you alive in my children! I also want to thank you for living mon the way you did, you and her taught us what family truly means and how to live the right way! I'll miss you until we meet again until then I'll be here trying to make you proud! Knowing you are still with me finding me every step of the way! & no I'll never give up on the people I love, just like you never did, even if they didnt like what you had to say you still said it! It's what we do when we love someone!
