“ Not a day goes by that I do not miss my Mom. Everyone says "What if", If I could only say or do this or that", If I had time to do this or that God knows our hearts and desires. We need to "Let Go and Let God". I can often hear my Mom's voice asking "Did you talk to your brothers, or sisters? have you been to see them? All she wanted was a close-knot happy family that spent the Holidays together. To check on each other and to help them with no strings attached. Why can't a Mother's only hope be so hard to happen?

God knows that I have tried over and over to the point that I have handed it over to a power greater than myself, God Almighty!!!!!!

My Mom taught me how important prayer is and showed me how to pray to the Father (God) through Jesus Christ and always said this is the Only Way. As a kid, I somewhat understood, but as I grew older, I came to the knowledge thru the Holy Spirit and the Word of God that this is the Only Way and there is no other way. Thank you Momma for leading me into the Truth about God, and for being the best mother, I love you and miss you

“ My Mom was not only my Mother, but she was my friend, my teacher and life has not been the same since she went to be with Jesus in Heaven. She always made sure that our family had enough to eat, clean clothes to wear and gave us all the love a child needed to get through life. Even as an adult, she provided enough love to help us daily, as God gives to His Children, Christians. My Mom taught me how to sew, how to cook, and how to be a good person. She always wanted my brothers and sisters to keep in communication with each other, spend the holidays together, and to lean on each other in times of need or pain. She wanted all of my brothers and sisters children and their children and all related to us to love each other. Not to argue, fight or hold any grudges against each other. She wanted us all to come to know the Lord Jesus Christ as their own personal savior. I miss my Mom more than words can say. I pray that she will continue to do Gods will in Heaven and I pray that God will allow my Mother to help me with a way to make my life easier by a means that her and God knows what I am talking about.
