

W. Dell Jensen

June 27, 1928 - November 14, 2017

Wallace Dell Jensen, 89, died Tuesday, November 14, 2017 in Midlothian, Texas.

He was born to the late Wallace Nels Jensen and Nora Elma Tingey in Brigham City, Utah.

Dell attended Box Elders High School in Brigham City Utah. He worked as a carpenter in a mill during his years there. He was a perfectionist and an expert custom cabinet maker, also doing the finishing work in custom home building.

After moving to Texas he worked for Vought in data processing and then worked for Oak Cliff Bank through many buy-outs that eventually became Bank of America from which he retired in 1995.

He loved his family and was a hard worker, always being a good provider. He enjoyed fishing, and traveling to different national parks, including Yellowstone. More than anything he loved working with wood.

“ We have known Dell and Darlene for 44 years. They have truly been family. They helped take care of my two daughters years ago. He was always so kind, generous and faithful. Always had a smile. Made beautiful things with his carpentry and even redid our kitchen ceiling. He was a very special person and I'm so grateful for the years of friendship we've shared. He will truly be missed. So glad he touch the lives of our family. W.T. and Darlene Hubbard
